Reading #5 by Carol Clarke for Ron.

Hello Ron nice to be talking to you again and I've been looking at your questions.

I've spent nearly an hour sitting and considering these questions and hopefully the answers I give will help. You never sent me any numbers this time but I think you and I are very much in tune at the moment so I think that it's sort of good. I've printed out your questions so that I can just talk to you and answer those questions and then quite a clear way.

You know you run on high octane energy and you know make life exciting I think for many people and you said you'd like to share things and I can understand that because you are a person who likes to communicate with people and you do have a low boredom threshold. So to be honest this for you if you're sharing and if you're with like-minded people makes you come alive.

[1:08] I know sometimes you like to stir things up and that's okay but you never do anything really nasty or anything like that so I think it's really nice and yet you know your life will really be one of change, many changes that will be happening over time and I'm sure you've already gone through quite a lot.

Now you've done well writing your books.
[Adventures of a Metaphysical Swing Dancer]
[A Multi-dimensional Chess Game for Consciousness]
I've had a quick look at them this morning and you know they really are very readable and very enjoyable now hope that you've had some good feedback.

[1:47] Well before I go on I just have to apologize for my voice because my throat is very sore through talking. I just had so many requests and you know as usual there's a big queue of people on a waiting list and a lot of people sort of request on the same day so it is very difficult but thank you for your patience. I know been waiting for this reading as many other people will be will be waiting for theirs but I do work alone and I do do everything personally so maybe you'll understand why I can't do everything straightaway as I would love to be able to do that but I can't.

[02:31] Anyway, to get on really to your your questions and you are saying you want to develop clear conscious two-way communication with your higher self and you are aware that paying attention to your emotional body is one way to get feedback, but you want conversational English for clarity. And you said while you're awake you've heard clear English from someone before on a few occasions but you don't know the source. Well the source is you and I'm not I'm not being funny about this but I think it is you.

[3:13] And it's very strange you know, I think if I remember rightly know, please correct me if I'm wrong, but I think you were not born in Virginia where you live now but you were born in New York and I, for some reason, I've got Kew Gardens in my mind. Whether that's right or wrong I don't know. However there is a very special beautiful place here, just in London, which is called Kew Gardens.

[3:45] Now that's a link with England in many ways and I you know I, I do feel that you probably have incarnated in this country maybe two or three times before so it's not surprising that your Higher Self will sometimes talk to you in clear

English and I feel that you know as as you sort of start to work with your higher self you do understand that it is a parallel you and but one who is much more developed than you are. And you know you you are joined together by the threads of energy as you are with the soul that you share and the soul that you shared with many lifetimes for yourself and many future lifetimes because the soul that the soul does not live within the body there you think scientists doctors cannot find where the soul is and that's because it isn't in the body

[04:55] It sits outside the body but it has these energetic threads that connect with everything that you've ever been [?] Arno and ever will be so I think that also you might connect when you connect with your higher-self and your other selves your past lives your future lives and it's interesting because you know the dreams that you have are very real. And it's strange you know, you might think to yourself oh well you know it's they're just dreams. I don't actually think they are and I can explain dreams because I understand them but the more I see of the dreams that you have, the more I am convinced that you have astral travel capabilities.

[5:51] And so I feel that you've said you've had two Jesus dreams and you said maybe it's because you spent a lot of time reading and trying to understand Carlos Castaneda books. And yes, I mean whatever you read does have an impact on your psyche on your unconscious as well and so you said that in the dreams, what you feel, could have been related to his material, talking about standing on the engine edge of a bed ready to dive into the unknown, the dark void that surrounded the bed and then you said Jesus was lying down in the same bed instructing you how to grab the back of your knees and pull yourself back to the bed away from the void. Now you're asking "Was this Jesus or an impostor?"

[6:53] I do have a few comments about this dream because I feel sometimes there are things that want to drug and imprison people who have awakening minds. And I think the dark void that surrounded your bed was maybe the energy from malevolent ETs.

[07:28] You see I feel that the Jesus character that you are encountering in these dreams is actually a benevolent ET because that is what Jesus was. I feel very certain about that. I feel certain that he existed. I feel certain that if we understood the words he was actually saying and not just take it in the biblical context, we would really know that he was a visitor from another planet trying to make this world a much better place.

[8:07] And this ET I think was trying to save you from falling into the trap because it seemed to be, while you were on that bed, that this dark void was quite inviting because you're a curious sort of person. You wanted to go and see what was there. And yet I think Jesus really knew that once you went down there that you would really be entrapped by these other ETs who, because they know that you are very much awakened, that you also are very good at communicating.

[8:57] They want your energy. They want you to change and so some of the things that you would communicate would not be really truth and so that I think is why they wanted you. But Jesus was ... he didn't actually reach it out to save you, but he told you how to save yourself and not to go into this void. And I am very convinced that this was a benevolent ET and possibly the same energetic vibration as the Jesus in the Bible was.

[09:43] Now in your second dream you said you were in a class with a few others who were learning how to channel. That's interesting really, learning how to channel from the other side. You said Jesus gave you your grades but yours were very poor. And you said Jesus had a tremendous sense of humor.

[10:07] No, he was not an impostor and I think that he was saying to you that possibly you didn't truly need to learn how to channel, that you could do that already and I think that because he knew that you wanted to do well. I think he would have given you poor grades there the reason for that being that he wanted you to realize that you didn't truly need to be in that class because you could communicate, not just with the other side of other dimensions. But you can truly communicate with ETs other entities and certainly that dimensions.

[11:04] I know this is what you wanted but I feel that you can do this so I just felt his sense of humor because how do you been cross with you he would have told you [?] but he was he said he had a tremendous sense of humor so he was trying to make you feel better about it but in a way trying to explain why it wasn't important what your grades were and that you would be you know, you are what you are and it was time that you realized

[11:37] Now you asked if out-of-body experiences are the best way for you to communicate clearly with your higher self and to avoid manipulative entities. Well I really have to sit and think about this one because out-of-body experiences sometimes are little bit dangerous, simply because those manipulative entities can sort of connect with you while you were in that state.

[12:15] So I think possibly it isn't the best way to communicate clearly but it is a way as long as you protect yourself first and you have to do that consciously, whereas out-of-body experiences are not usually truly conscious experiences. So I think that you really need to judge how you're feeling at that time. If you're feeling strong and because strength will protect you, then yes, that would be a good way. But I do feel that your higher self is already in communication with you. That voice that sometimes you hear in your head and you may think oh it's just your own thoughts, no it isn't. It is your higher self and it's strange how long it can take people to realize that this actually happens.

[] But you said you have a lack of clear conscious two-way communication with your higher-self and is it a lesson to simply trust the universe? Yes it is in a way but you're already doing it and the thing is you you're not truly realizing it.

[] You don't know your own power, your own abilities yet you are a person who for I think many years of your life has been very interested in what is known as spirituality But you are a person who really has abilities beyond anything that you are conscious of at the moment. But you are having this conversation from your higher self so what you need to do is when though that voice speaks to you in your head is to answer it. You can answer it verbally. You can answer it in thought. It's going to be completely up to you which way you do it and it's at first it may not be clear but I certainly feel that it is really something that will become very clear as you start to trust the process.

[] There are things that are holding you back. One is sort of the meat [?] that the desire, the urge to communicate so much, that you're misunderstanding the messages that you're getting and I feel that because maybe you don't always believe that this could possibly be the voice of your higher self. That could create a block and so I think what you have to do is learn to relax. Learn to find a very quiet time when you can sit maybe have a glass of wine or beer whatever you have, so that relaxes you a little bit more. And I think that once you really start that, then you will find that it's so much easier and these blocks will be read will be removed.

[] That said I have to say that sometimes there is interference and this interference is from manipulative energies and those who would like to have your abilities on board with them because they like to work through certain people and you know there are many of these ETs that are on this earth in human form and also in wavelength form and they can transform themselves into anything they want. They could become a dog, they could become a rabbit, they could become a person. And you really have the ability to sense out if something is a little bit different about somebody's personal frequency. So I think that there is cement interference sometimes because when you think oh I really want to get in touch with my higher self, something blocks you and that is the manipulative entities. They really don't want you to get in touch with your higher self. For me, I'm fully conscious because then you will hear the truth. You will be guided and I think that this is not what they want from somebody as powerful as you.

[] You said perhaps guides and higher self do not always have the same resources and answers. Yes I think that there's something in that because the higher-self actually does know what to say and what to do.

Guides can only guide you and they can't really just say to you this is a fact but they can gently nudge you in the right direction. They can answer some questions but they have to leave it open sometimes because you need to be the one to make your mind up. So it's really quite important for you to understand this but your higher self will always give you the truth. And I think that this is a very important question that you've asked because this can mislead so many people. And so you are wanting to know the truth and I'm hoping that what I'm saying to you will make sense.

[] You said “When maintaining strong intention to get accurate information, free from manipulation, which is the best path, higher self or guides?”

Well I think I've told you that you will get the accurate information from your higher self because your higher self knows your future your present and your past because it is you and in a way you, all of the you(s) that have ever been or ever will be are just a part of the true self which is the higher self, is yourself and that's what I feel you should be calling a soul is a “higher soul” rather than a “higher self”.

[stop]

[] So guides, as I've said will really nourish you in some ways and they're not going to try and manipulate you but they are going to try and sort of open the way gently. However some manipulative ETs can be impostor guides and this is where your higher-self can help you because it can give you the ability to sense the frequencies of these manipulative entities. So I think that, how can I say, you would recognize the manipulative ones by a tingle that you would get when sort of either getting their energy through thought or actually physical presence, so I'm hoping that will help you now. You said, I mean I love the way you always like to think about having fun and you said "It would sure be fun to take some vacations from this reality without going through the death experience". You can do that actually but I think that you have to be a bit more advanced than you are at this time. You are on maybe the third rung of the very long ladder The more you start to trust what I've tried to explain to you it will be from your higher self, the the easier it will be because your higher self cannot be manipulated because it was already predestined. Everything is predestined whereas your guides can not exactly be manipulated but there are those who can pose as guides.

[] You said you would like to be able to visit any reality, any place, any person, any animal that you have ever loved. You know this takes an awful lot of practice and knowledge. To be honest, I can I can understand why you said it brings tears to your eyes because there are so many people and places and loved ones that have gone and they have changed their reality. And they too can appear when need be as they were on this planet but I think that it is very easy to do this once you know how. Quite often you can put yourself in a hypnotic state and when you are in that state it fries your brain because your brain and all the memories that you have all the thoughts that you have all the experiences that you've had. I mean if you really think about it, let me say that everything that your brain records, everything from the day you're born to the day you die and yet how could it hold all of that you know as marvelous as it is? They couldn't. Everything is held on the quantum field and the brain is a wonderful transmitter and receiver so this is what you're doing when you're remembering things however there is one word of warning.

Sometimes these memories can be false because you are connecting with them from the quantum field. There is room for manipulation and the ETs who are not benevolent, they can put in false ideas false thoughts and things like that. So you do again have to be careful that is why I'm saying that it will take some time for you to be able to do that but through hypnosis you open up your mind and it isn't because then you would have you know your memories floating back it would open you up to be able to let your connection with your soul be free to visit other realities because remember yourself is connecting with other lives of yours past and future and some of those lives will be in other realities so as I say it takes quite a long time and some people never ever achieve it but this is how it does, how it works and so you know in in theory I can't prove it but this is what I've been told by my own guide and higher self is that you can really go to realities where people and animals that you've loved can appear to you and you know that they would take a form so that you would be able to recognize them now.

[] You said "come and go at your command" yes in some ways but not all together so I [?] there it is a possibility and it is a probability but you have to again be careful because there could be some interference but hypnosis is a good way to do this and you can self hypnotize if you are shown how.

[] Now you're asking "Does my higher self or guides have any recommendation for me on any topic? What do they think is most important”? Well I think at this time your higher self, if I am connecting with that in the right way, it thinks it is well, it knows it is important that you help us to awaken to the truth about the reality in this world, to be aware of the change that is taking place with the frequency of this planet. And I think I have told you about the Orions and the work that is happening in Antarctica and this is starting to change the frequency of this planet. But I think if people begin to be aware of it, they will then change their own frequency and it will not exactly block but it could delay exactly what is going on and so I think that maybe sharing with other people the knowledge that you might know about this and things that have just come to you anyway. And also to be aware that what is happening in North Korea is not so much to do with the silly leader but the military advisers who definitely feel that they have a destiny to conquer the world and I think that this is a really important topic [?]

know you busted the [?]
“Stargate near your home is being used by positive or negative energies?
Who are they?
What is their purpose?
Do you (Ron) have a role to play?”

Well I've looked at your photograph and I see two stargates. Actually what is very very close to your home well both the mirror to your home then to anything else to be honest. And I feel that one is there's a tiny circle of trees very close to your property it's difficult because the picture wasn't very big but it seems to be a to the left of your property but sort of almost forward left.

[] And I think that the other Stargate ... there is an elongated place between the trees which is between your place and Ron Jr's place and it is just ... it's not big but it almost looks banana shaped and I can see a vortex there. But the one nearest to your own home I definitely think is being used by positive energies.

[] But the banana shaped stargate is well, I think that it is perhaps sometimes open to both and I'm sure that you must feel this anyway because I think that some of the negative energies are actually the Orions and their purpose is to, because you are so awakened, I think that they want to sort of try and change the energy around your farm for both you and you know your your son and I think that this is perhaps to keep you a little bit under control.

[] The positive energies actually come to your home and this is where I think you live, the Jesus that you dream about really this is where that ET comes through. Now you may not agree with me. You may think that there are other places but they don't like to be out in the open.

[] And there is a man in and Britain, has a farm and he definitely has a portal and that that I could definitely see and his farm is gold-colored and he is called Mark Herbert. I'm sure that you might find out about it. His land is so spiritual, has built himself a small stone circle and he is a very very good person but this is a portal where all many ancient and future entities move through and it is interesting at some time maybe you might want to be in contact with him.

[] You are asking do you have a role to play? Well yes you do and I've not told you about that before. The role played is to give the correct message out and not to be manipulated.

[] You have asked if in this lifetime have you been abducted or implanted. I don't think you've been abducted. I think that may be yet to come and it may appear to you like a dream.

[] Implanted? Well I questioned that before and I think that this may have happened when you were a young boy and I think you have a biological implant and I think it's because they knew what you would do when you were older. But you are also one who will read avidly, find out about things and the information and the connections that you have will actually be very useful.

[] You have asked - have you made agreements or contracts that you've not been living up to during this lifetime. I think the answer to that is no. I don't really feel and I know what you're saying you're saying did you make any agreements that you should do certain things before you were born.

[] Well you may be darting [?] things you may think that you've let or not kept to agreements or contracts but remember you still have time left and you may find that there is something that you promised you would do that will come in the future.

[] You tried to spread happiness wherever you go you and haven't had the easiest of lives but you've kept positive so that has been a good thing.

[] And I think that you must have [?] any manipulative energy tricked you into making any agreement for this lifetime that's not been in your best interest. Yes, I would say your second marriage. I do hope you don't mind me saying that but I do because I think it really upset you and I think also that you just felt as if you were totally alone after that brake up and because you'd already had a broken marriage, you felt it must have all been your fault. So I think that ... that I think that's something that they never truly what what they [?] wanted the agreement. They really didn't want you to be happy because you don't try to be happy. But living in an anxiety state is something that they would have wanted for you.

[] I know from time to time you might have crossed that line but you know I think that the most part they may be feeling a little bit let down from their view. I mean what they wanted happened but I feel you've come through it. You said "Truth is never hurt by shining more light on it". But you did wonder whether your natural ability to question everything is restricting your intuition. Yes, in a nutshell yes. You have to open up. You have to trust your intuition. You were born with that intuition and that's another reason that they wanted a biological implant within you. They'll never find it on an x-ray but I feel it is actually between your shoulder blades. Sometimes it makes you do things and you wonder why you ever did it but you know it's it is so interesting really but you have to really start to trust your intuitive ability much more and keep questioning everything. Trust your gut feeling last door feel [?]

[] The ET's will intervene and stop a nuclear war. Well I think that they're here now and I think some ET's are hoping for it to go ahead and our manipulating things in order to do just that but I don't think that the true ETs who actively love humanity want this to happen. So I think it will stop short of it but I think it will come very close to it and I do think that you see at the moment there are so many things coming from NASA say that the moons of Jupiter, the moons of Saturn was probably like there they've looked at Mars and they say it could have sustained life. All these things are preparing us to know that ETs are walking amongst us.

[] And you asked if ETs have technology to remove radioactive material that is damaging life on this earth. I think that they do, they certainly do. But I think if you [?] saying about the potential for receiving help to neutralize the radiation that is not going to come yet. I think eventually when they show themselves when they left the whole of the public know that they here then a lot of things will change and this could be one of the things that happens.

[] But you are right, and you said you mustn't give, we mustn't give our power and our sovereignty away to any ET's or anyone.

[] So you're asking for suggestions to guide activities once contact has become common. Yes you've got to remember that you are human beings and low ETs can guide us and we will learn from them because I do feel that the positive ETs will really overpower the negative ETs that are here because they do not want this earth to die. This earth has been an experiment as I've told many people and they don't want it to fall apart. I mean in ancient cultures it did that and they said, the Bible and many other writings of ancient times, say that there were great floods and yet some humans always survived. If they were nuclear then I don't think really any humans would survive, only the non-human robots but [?] you this the powers-that-be seemed to be in such a rush to create.

[] More on this another time but I actually feel that we all need to gather together as you share with your friends on on the Avalon project Avalon forum. Those people are intelligent. Each has their own knowledge and their own understanding of things. If you all come together then I think that you can really sort of show the ET's that yes, we are willing to learn from them that we are willing to listen but that they too must listen to us because after all this is our world.

[] So I'm hoping that I have answered your questions fully and that well I'm not sure. You'll have to listen to this reading. I hate the way I say "oh my now", sometimes it's very difficult when you're trying to talk, just keep talking with no interaction but you said you want to share the reading with others. Listen to it first and see if it's worthwhile sharing and if not then I feel a bit embarrassed about you doing that but if it's something that you want to do it's it's up to you.

[] OK Ron I'll leave it at that. I just hope that I have been able to answer your questions truthfully, and honestly, and satisfactorily, to be honest. And I hope you'll let me know what you think. [?]
don't keep smiling big hugs to you bye bye for now bye bye Ron
